OTTO FLOTO ON CORBETT'S DEFEAT.

Said Denverite Was Beaten Fairly And Squarely and Best Man Won.

CONDITION OF THE TWO MEN.

While Denver Boy was Not at Ilis Best It Made Little or no Difference To Nelson.

Well, home again, and glad of it. gaw the Denver favorite defeated. There is no use beating about the bush or trying to find excuses for the defeat of the erstwhile champion. Nelson is entitled to all the glory that goes with his victory. True, he did not defeat the Young Corbett of a year ago, but let's stop and ask ourselves:

Could Corbett at his best defeat so sturdy a fighter as the battling Dane proved himself to be?

It's all right to say Corbett was out of What he would have done to Nelson a

These and other questions were asked immediately after the fight. In the first place, we will give Corbett the benefit of the doubt and admit he was out of condition. He certainly looked bad and in the worst shape I ever saw him in.

But was it any fault of Neissin's that Corbett was out of shape Corbett made the match with his eyes open. He knew just what he weighed when he signed the articles, and if there was not time enough intervening between the signing of articles and the date of the fight, then it was up to Corbett to demand a later date.

It was, therefore, Nelson's good fortune to catch the champion off edge. As I said before, however, it's doubtful to my mind whether Corbett could defeat Nelson at his best. I'm like the Missourian in this matter and want to be shown, This is not detracting from Corbett in any way, manner or shape, for I believe that the dittle Denver fighter was one of the greatest fighters that ever held the featherweight title.

The Dane, however, Is a wonder. No

Ighters that ever held the featherweight title.

The Dane, however, is a wonder. No punch seems to hurt him and he takes to bunishment like a duck takes to water. He revels in the hard going. Cornett swung his left full on Nelson nose twice and did not even draw plood. He swung he same terrible right on Nelson's eye, and the next day after the battle there was not a mark on the victor with the exception of a slight bruise on his ear.

He can stand punishment like no other little man in the ring, and when he fights split he may lose the decision, but it's dollar to cents he will be on his feet at the end of the battle.

With it all Nelson has his failing. He can not hit, Just as Herrera and others said, he does not possess the punishing lower some of the other boys of his weight do. He hits fast and often, however, and wears a man down, which may be answers just as well.

In the clinches he is the greatest man I ever saw. Busy all the time, uppercuting or driving his fist into the stomach of his opponent. Corbett could do nothing sith him when clinched and it kept the Denverte busy trying to hold Nelson's arms whenever they were locked together.

We have often heard it said that "any man who rushes Corbett will be cream said end of that "work of the order hard it said that "any man who rushes Corbett will be cream said gray for him." Well, forget that oil

We have often heard it said that "any man who rushes Corbett will be cream and gravy for him." Well, forget that old statement. If ever a man was rushed and given just the kind of fight that he wanted to win, that man was Corbett Nelson was on top of him all the time. He assumed a sort of naif crouch with his head down, and then went straight to the enemy, sending his arms out like piston rods and using a sort of haif swing with the left hand. He punches straight as an arrow, and that's what makes him so dangerous.

No sooner did the bell ring than he was taking the aggressive, and in a clinch his arms would work like beavers, blows coming from all directions, until Corbett was bewildered and at a less what to do to stem the tide of battle.

After the second round I turned to Barney Oldfield and Morris Levey, who sat next to me, and said: "Poor Corbett hasn't work a change unless his heed and tion until the tenth, when, recling with a hands by his side, Harry Tuthill jump I through the ropes and threw up the wel to save his man from further pun-

When Corbett found himself going, and he realized that fact after the second round, when he g lanced towards Nelson's corner and met Frank Rafen's sarcastic smiles and the Frank Raten's sarcastic smiles as the latter was swinging the towel over Nelson's head, and Teddy Murphy said to him: "Never mind, Corbett, pay attention to Bat." the expression on Corbett's face was something terrible to those who knew him. He was like the drowning man grasping at a straw. There was no one in the wide wide world could come to his aid and prevent defeat.

Once in the fourth round he brought his defeat.

Once in the fourth round he brought his wits into play and said:

"Who told you that you could hit hard enough to hurt anyone:"

Neison did not answer.

"You can't hit hard enough to hurt a baby," cam's Corbett's retort.

This aroused Neison, who, with a laugh, replied: "You won't think this a joke when I get through with you. This is one where I laugh when it's over."

Nothing further was said by either man after that. They simply went at it every second of the time, allowing no dead seconds to creep into the battle.

In the fifth round the boys came together with their heads in a clinch and a cut three inches deep on Corbett's head was the result. The blood flowed so fast from this cut that it completely covered the body of the champion and he was a gory spectacle. He wasn't hurt, but it looked like a slaughter house. Tuthill tried to raise an objection and shouted to Roohe, who turned his back and then asked Nelson to be careful.

When the end had arrived and Tuthill led Corbett to his corner the first man to jump through the ropes was Jimmy Britt. He walked to Corbett's corner, grabbed him by the hend, and said:

"I'm sorry, Billy, heartly sorry. I want to forgive you for all the harsh things you have ever said about me. When this battle began my breast was filled with hatred towards you. Now, in the hour of defeat, as I gaze upon you every spark of animosity has left me, and believe me.

defeat, as I gaze upon you every spark of animosity has left me, and believe me, it is with the deepest of feelings that I want to offer my condolence and want you to accept the same in the spirit in which I tender the same."

Later Corbett and Britt met in an up-own resort, and again Britt shook hands and said:

od said:
"Billy, all I can say is that I am sorry, had hoped that it would be you and my it to it in December, but now a strangis to take your place. You know it is to me to take on Nelson, the public mands it and I want to meet him, eer up and don't take it too hard. My y is coming some time, and when it es I hope I can bow out of it gracely and take my medicine in a befitting mner."

fully and take my medicine in a bentung manner."

Now as to the weight question. Corbett was overweight; of that there can be no doubt. Teddy Murphy objected when he got on the scales, and it was only after Harry Corbett turned to the "boy manager" and sald: "it's only a few ounces, Teddy, let it go."

'Ali right," answered Murphy, and the weighing was over.

At 5 o'clock on the day of the battle Barney Oldfield and myself went to Corbett's quarters and took the champion to Corbett's in Oldfield's automobile to weigh in, While at Sheehan's Corbett sent down word to "wait a few minutes." Oldfield went to bis room and returned in a short time, saying: "Why, they are giving that kid a vapor bath, he must be overweight. I think it's going to weaken him to do that."

Whether they weakened him or not, it weight. I think it's going to weaken him to do that."

Whether they weakened him or not, it demonstrated one fact; that fact is that he undertook a task too big to accomplish whe nhe tried to reduce some 30 pounds in a little over five weeks. The feat was impossible and the battle proved it.

Corbett lost a grand bopprunity by not waiting for Britt. Had he met defeat at the hands of Britt he would have received at least $10,000 for his share. As it was, he received about $2,500, and no chance to mest Britt in the future. As a business proposition Corbett made a serious mistake.

However, he thought he could defeat Nelson, When we talked the match over while he was in Denver on his way to the coast, I said: "Kid, you picked a pretty tough one, didn't you? They say no one can knock this fellow out."

"That's what they all say," he replied. "but he never had a fellow like Young Corbett punching at him."

As to Corbett's gameness, I want to say that all the reports about his having a "vellow streak" are fables. He could have "flopped" a dozen times during the battle had he so desired. Instead, he stood up and took punch after punch with bis arms hanging by his side unable to defend himself. He has proven beyond a doubt that he is as game as any fighter I ever saw in the ring.

Any Rheumatic sufferer may have a full dollar's worth of my remedy free

I don't mean that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatism—something that I or any physician could feel safe in prescribing—something that we could count on not only occasionally, but ALWAYS. For the rayages of Rheumatism are overywhere and genuine relief is rare.

After twenty years of search and experiment I learned of the chemical I now employ. And I knew then that my search and my efforts were well rewarded. For this chemical gave me the basis of a remedy which in the cure of Rheumatism is practically certain.

You pay nothing—you promise nothing you risk nothing you deposit nothing posit which forms is not lime, but crystized poison!

For your blood is always full of poison—is poison you eat and drink and breather to your system. It is the purpose of he blood to absorb and carry on this very clean. And the kidneys, which are the blood and send it back through the system clean together more poison which, hey, in turn, will eliminate.

But sometimes the kidneys fail. And sometimes from some other causa the blood gets so full of poison that they cannot absorb it all. This is the start of Rheumatism. The poison accumulates and crystalizes. The blood carries the Cyrstals and they increase in size, Then, when it can carry them no longer, it deposits them in a joint—on a bone—any-where.

The twinge in your leg—the dull ache in your arm on a rainy day—these are the outward signs of the unseen crystals. And the twisted limbs and unspeakable arguish of the sufferer who has allowed his symptoms to go unheaded and unattended for years—these are the evidences of what Rheumatism, neglected when the suffered supports the suffered supports the suffered supports the supports the support of the support Rheumatism includes lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, gout—for all these are the results of rheumatic pulson in the blood Plainly, the first thing to do is to remove the poison. But this is not enough. The FORMATION of the poison must be kiopped. So that nature may have a chance to dissolve and eliminate the crystals which have already formed. Unless this is done there can be no cure—no permanent relief.

A Certain Cure:

I spent twenty years in experimenting before I felt satisfied that I had a certain remedy for this dread disease—a remedy which would not only clean out the poison, but one which would stop its formation.

The secret lay in a wonderful chemical I found in Germany. When I found this chemical I knew that I could make a Rheumatic cure that would be practically ceriain. But even then before I made an announcement—before I was willing to put my name on it—I made more than 2.000 tests! And my failures were but 2 per cent.

This German chemical is not the only agredient I use in Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic ure—but it made the remedy possible—made possible an achievment which I loubt not could have been made in no these way. other way.

This chemical was very expensive. The duty, too, was high. In all it cost me $4.90 per pound. But what is $4.90 per pound for a REAL remedy for the world's most painful disease?—for a REAL relief from the greatest torture human beings know?

But I do not ask you to take a single statement of mine—I do not ask you to believe a word I say until you have tried my medicine in your own home at my expence absolutely. Could I offer you a full dollar's worth free if there were any misrepresentation? Would I do this if I were not straightforward in my every claim? Could I AFFORD to do it if I were not SURE that my medicine will help you?

Simply Write Me

The offer is open to everyone, everywhere. But you must write ME for the free dollar bottle order. All druggists do not grant the test. I will then direct you to one that does. He will pass it down to you from his stock as freely as though your dollar laid before him. Write for the order today. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 9713, Racine, Wis. I will send you my book on Rheumatism beside. It is free. It will help you to understand your case. What mere can I do to convince you of my interest—of my sincerity?

SENATOR BURTON'S CASE,

Gov't Supplemental Brief Contends for His Guilt.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The supple mental brief of the government in thease of Senator Burton of Kansas was filed in the supreme court of the Unite States today. It contends strongly for the guilt of the defendant, although it I admitted that the senator's course in support of the interest of his client, the Ri alto company, was not always clear. Speaking of the use of political influence in the departments, the brief says that it is effective, and adds:

"Mr. Burton's traces were well covered. His assertions on behalf of himself and his client make a fair outside but he had up the investigation because he was Senator and not merely because he was general counsel of the Rialto company; and the portions of the judge's charge animadverted on at bar were perfectly accurate and just. If not, the most dangerous evil in this entire situation, viz that intangible, subtle and insiduous thing, 'influence,' can never' be reached even where the receipt of compensation is claimly shown."

On the point of punishment it is remarked:

"Because a man occupies a high position and the sting of the infamy may therefore be mere bitter to him is no reason for saying that that part of the punishment should increase the grade of the offense and enlarge his pain and rights, any more than if the case put the same stigma upon a poor wretch who never held office and could never expect to."

Undigested food and gas in the stomach located just below the heart, presses against it and causes heart publication.

This turn was surprising, for Mr. Carnegie had announced in the course or the day that he would be glad to receive a federal officer, and it was supposed that F. F. Oldham, representing the comptroller of the currency, would meet him tonight and that the matter of the notes alleged to have been given to Iri Reynolds of Cleveland and sald to bear the name of Andew Carnegie yould be discussed.

As unexpected as the news that no onference was held was the departure f Mrs. Chadwick from the Holland nouse, where she has resided, for the New Amsterdam hotel, She was accompanied by her son and a maid and too with her some baggage. Secret service men who have been at the Holland House for several days followed Mrs Chadwick.

Andrew Squire, a Cleveland attorny, representing ira Reynolds, made the announcement tonight, after several conferences with Receiver Lyon, Mr. Oldham and others, that he believed there would be no further developments the case before tomorrow, and also said that Mr. Oldham had returned to Washington. This announcement was the first indication that there would not be a meeting at Mr. Carnegie's

The son and maid carried Mrs. Chadwick's baggage. The son returned to the reception room for the baggage after he had taken his mother to her com, and the secret service men held him in conversation for some minutes and then let him go. He went back to his mother. The detectives refused to say what they had asked. The son hired the rooms for his mother's party. Shortly before midnight Mrs. Chacnd called up Dr. Albertus A. Moore and called up Dr. Albertus A. Moore. He asked the physician to hurry at once to his mother, who, he said, was very ill. Dr. Moore said later:

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

To Prove What the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of the Deseret News May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free by Mail.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fall to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Klimer's Swamp-Rcot, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

I cheerfully recommend and endorse the Great Remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, for kidney trouble and bad liver. I have used it and derived great benefit from it. I believe it has cured me entirely of kidney and liver trouble, from which I suffered terribly.

Most gratefully yours,
A. R. REYNOLDS, Chief of Police,

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering and fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause or dul ache in the back, joints and muscles; make your head ache and back ache, cause indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, you get a sallow, yellow complexion, make you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak

The cure for these troubles is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous kidney remedy. in taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect nealer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is cnown to medical science

How to Find Out

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let t stand twenty-four hours. If on examination t is milky or cloudy, if there is a brick-dust setling, or if small particles float about in it, your sidneys are in need of immediate attention,
Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by dectors themselves who have kidney allments, because they recognize in it the greatest and nacet successful remedy for kidney, liver and ladder troubles

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but re-member the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
